Inventory of Part V Designated Properties – Brooklin Heritage Conservation District (By-laws 6085-08, 6086-08)

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value: Brooklin’s heritage character derives primarily from its largely intact commercial main street, its modest scale of buildings, its predominant landscape features (parks, residential lots, creek), its landmark public buildings, its community event venues, and its retention of buildings and settings from all stages of its evolution. Please refer to the Brooklin HCD By-laws and Plan (By-laws 6085-08, 6086-08) for details on character defining attributes, as well as individual Property Sheets for a description of heritage attributes for each property. For copies, please contact Heritage Planning staff at heritage@whitby.ca or 905-430-4306.

The following addresses are for reference only – the map of the Brooklin HCD should also be referenced to determine if the subject property falls within the boundary.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value: The Werden’s Plan Neighbourhood District is characterized by single detached houses, erected from the mid-nineteenth century onward. The houses display a wide range of traditional architectural styles. Many houses are modest in size, while others are larger. The mix of house sizes indicates a social mixing characteristic of small towns. Regardless of size, houses are usually set in a liberally sized green envelope of lawn, trees and shrubs. Please refer to the Werden’s Plan By-law 7297-17 and HCD Plan for more details on character defining attributes, and the individual Property Sheets for descriptions of heritage attributes for each property. For copies, please contact Heritage Planning staff at heritage@whitby.ca or 905-430-4306.

The following addresses are for reference only – the map of the Werden’s Plan HCD should also be referenced to determine if the subject property falls within the boundary.
